

Herefordshire Nature Trust works across the County, protecting wildlife and natural places by:

- Managing over 50 nature reserves covering over 650 acres, including wetlands, woodlands and meadows.
- Protecting rare and threatened species, from otters and dormice to butterflies, flowers and birds.
- Screening planning applications and fighting to save sites where scarce wildlife and habitats are at risk.
- Educating and inspiring thousands of children each year through family events and Wildlife Watch, the junior branch of the Trust.
- Encouraging and helping people to enjoy nature, with walks, talks and events in the town and countryside.
- Advising farmers, land owners, local authorities, businesses and community groups for the benefit of wildlife.

But we can not do this without your help. Please support your local Wildlife Trust.

To make a donation worth almost a third more at no extra cost to you, please tick here (you must be a UK tax payer):
This will allow the Trust to reclaim tax on your donation from the inland revenue.

Herefordshire Nature Trust would like to hold details about you to be able to send you information about our activities and our work for wildlife conservation. If you prefer us not to use your details in any of these ways, please tick here

We promise not to sell your details to anyone else.

Protecting Wildlife for the Future

A donation in lieu of flowers will help protect local wildflowers for generations to come.

Traditionally we pay respect to our departed loved ones through a gift of flowers. However, cut flowers never last for long - unlike wildflowers, which if cared for can last for generations to come.

The Herefordshire Nature Trust works to protect local wildlife. A donation to the Trust in memory of a loved one will help us to maintain the spring blossom and bluebells in ancient woodlands and the orchids and fragrant flowers in summer meadows. It is a lasting gift that will bloom year after year - a gift full of hope for the future.

We are all concerned about our environment, so what better way to be remembered than to help leave a thriving natural world for future generations, so they too enjoy the wonders of the world around us.

If you would like to remember a loved one in this way, please complete the details opposite, and return it with your donation to the freepost address given.

If you wish to put a notice in the press, please include 'Donations to the Herefordshire Nature Trust' and the freepost address given. Your funeral director can also help with your arrangements by organising collections for you.

Your gift, however large or small, will make a real difference to local wildlife. Thank you for thinking about us at this sad time.
